J. E. Rich, of Cumberland mountain was in the city Thursday.

Mrs. Hannah Hale, Guild, Tenn., orders the News for six months.

A. D. Thomas and family, of Whitwell, were visiting relatives on the mountain Sunday.

J. T. Billingsley, R. 2, Whitwell, orders the News sent him six months, which we are glad to do.

Mrs. W. A. Chadwick and neice, Miss Nellie Bray, returned to Whitwell yesterday after an extended visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Ragsdale, of Victoria, were the guests of E. G. Wright and family for the week-end.—Pikeville Bledsonian.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Griffith have gone to Richard City, where Mr. Griffith has employment at the cement plant.

If you want an enjoyable hour, get Pete Tate to perform on the guitar for you. He is an expert with the instrument and sure "gits thar" with a guitar.

J. H. Privett, of Inman, was here Thursday and called in on the News to settle subscription, which he did to June 10th, next. He is the owner of a small farm in Marion, and like hundreds of others, is trying his best to live on it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hines, Miss Elise Picquet, and Stanley Hynes went to Foster Falls Sunday en mulemobile. It was a sight to see Hynes pushing the motors into high with a blacksnake whip, and going into reverse on the grades. A very enjoyable outing was had as the day was ideal.

J. L. Wooten, of Pryor Cove, was here Friday, looking for some sheep which had strayed from his place. His wife has returned from the Emerald-Hodgson Hospital at Sewanee, where she underwent a very serious operation from which she is recovering slowly and is now able to walk about the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, of Alton Park, were here Saturday night to visit Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smith, leaving Sunday for So. Pittsburg to visit Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Condra. He is now in the employ of the Look-out Refinery at Alton Park and has a good position. He ordered the News sent him so as to keep up with the news of his home town.

YOUNG FOLKS ENJOY HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

Hallowe'en was celebrated with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Curtis for the little folks, and a splendid time is reported. Apples, candy and cake, which was pronounced the "goodest" ever, were disposed of by the youngsters. Games of various kinds were played and a guessing contest pulled off on which the grains of corn on a good-sized ear were estimated by some to be as low as 200 and by others as high as 1000. The exact number was 731 and Misses Lillian Minor and Mildred Hill were closest guessers, each estimating the number to be 1000. Jack-o'-lanterns adorned the parlor and gave a spooky atmosphere which was carried out by the appearance of some of the little folks as "ghosts."

STATE CONVENTION FARMERS UNION

The State Convention of the Farmers' Educational & Co-operative Union of America will meet at Huntington Nov. 20-21, following the National Convention which meets at Memphis Nov. 18-19. The Union is very strong in Marion county, owning its own store and conducting its own fire insurance and the meetings will very probably be attended by several delegates.

THOUSAND-DOLLAR CARLOAD LUMBER

J. P. Hynes, local manager for the Hedrick Coal & Lumber Co., loaded a car of oak here Monday that billed at an even $1000. It contained 10,000 feet of lumber at $100 per 1000, and is a record-breaker in lumber values.

James Stucky Says, "Rats Cost Me $125 for Plumbing Bills."

"We couldn't tell what was clogging up our toilet and drains. We had to tear up floor, pipes, etc., and found a rat's nest in basement. They choked the pipes with refuse. The plumber's bill was $125. RAT-SNAP cleaned the rodents out." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Will the Influenza Return?

Public Health Authorities Predict its Recurrence

Guard Against it by Building Up the Blood

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich Red
Blood and Increases Strength

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service in a recent statement from Washington, warns the public that the much dreaded influenza epidemic will probably return this fall and winter. All medical authorities agree that the weak, bloodless, run-down individual is more likely to contract this (as well as any other infectious disease) than is the strong, robust, red-blooded man or woman. In view of these facts, it is wise to use every effort to build up the blood and thus increase the bodily resistance to the invasion of the germs of the disease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without Gude's, it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.

STEWART TO RE-ENTER MOVIE BUSINESS

Will Be Well Backed By South
Pittsburg Capital.

So, Pittsburg, Nov. 8.—Frank I. Stewart will re-enter the movie business, having leased the Ladd building on Cedar Ave. for five years. He has associated with him some of the leading financiers of the county, among them, it is said, being R. C. Aycock, of the Aycock Hosiery Mills. Some $5,000 will be spent in remodeling the building and securing an equipment which will make it one of the best movie theatres in the state, outside the big cities. Mr. Stewart recently sold out his interest in the Wilson Theatre to Messrs. Ross & Ellis, and went into the bakery business exclusively, but the lure of the movie is too much for him and he will re-enter, especially since So. Pittsburg is without a motion picture theatre, owing to W. H. Wilson, the owner, having sold the building to the Walton Furniture Co.

Reduces Price.

Crossville, Oct. 30.—The Chronicle, published at this place, has reduced its price from $2.00 per year to $1.50, to take effect Jan. 1, 1920. The Chronicle is an excellent country paper, but the $2.00 rate seems to be a little more than its patrons can stand, hence the reduction.

Sheriff Coppinger Convalescent.

Jasper, Nov. 1.—G. W. Coppinger, sheriff of Marion county, is convalescent from an attack of typhoid fever, and able to resume his official duties. He has been confined to his room for 40 days and is still weak.

Holds Stenographer Position.

Miss Eva Barber, of Whitwell, is stenographer in the office of Clerk and Master S. L. Havron, at Jasper. She is gaining knowledge of the routine of the office fast and is making a courteous and capable assistant.

A. J. Curtis and W. D. Curtis, of the mountain, were here yesterday. W. D. gave us a suspicion that winter was coming as he was looking for cement to fix his cosy corner.

GOOD BULLS ARE HERD BUILDERS

CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION IS BEST MEANS THRU WHICH TO PROCURE EXCELLENT SIRE.

PROFITABLE TO DAIRYMEN

Wilson and Bedford Counties First In State To Have Mutual Creamery and Better Male Organization—Specialist
Gives Details.

(By C. A. Hutton, Dairy Husbandry
Specialist, Division of Agricultural Extension, University of Tennessee.)

One of the most important factors in the improvement of the dairy cattle of a county or a community is the kind of bulls used. Most farmers now realize the value of using good sires, but often the cost of owning one for a small herd is so high in proportion to the number of cows to be used that the farmer feels that he can not invest enough money to secure a high-class purebred bull. If he has some neighbors who also are interested in building up a good herd from the few cows that they own, the most effective way for all of them is by co-operative ownership of a sire of the best dairy qualities. If there are as many as three such communities in a county or within reasonable distance of each other, the best means to an end is the co-operative bull association.

In such an association an assessment is prorated among members in proportion to the number of cows each man owns. This cost rarely exceeds $10 per cow. The bulls are then bought by the directors of the association, and one animal is placed in each block or community, where he stays two years. At the end of this time each is advanced one block to prevent in-breeding. Number one goes to two, two to three, and so on until the highest is reached, and it progresses to number one. Keeper of the bull in each block usually is paid a small fee which reimburses him for the upkeep of the animal. This rarely exceeds $1 per cow for each year.

In selecting bulls for a co-operative bull association, the prime consideration is, will their daughters be better producers than the dams of the daughters? In other words, will the calves of which they are sires be better producers than the mothers?

Thus they must not only be good individuals, but they must be from a high-producing family. One of the chief requirements is that the dams of such bulls must have a register of merit record of not less than 500 pounds of butter-fat in a year as a mature cow, or a proportionate amount if the record was made when the cow was under five years of age. It is also desirable to have the bulls from cows that have a large number of daughters in the register of merit, and to have a great percentage of the ancestry for at least four generations in the register of merit. With these requirements fulfilled, how can the bulls be selected keep from improving the qualities of the future dairy cows of the community?

In practice the actual cost to own such bulls co-operatively is but little, if any, more than the combined cost of the ordinary bulls replaced by them. A bull for the association would cost about $400, and would replace from four to five ordinary purebreds, or perhaps grade bulls, worth on the beef market about $100 each.

The co-operative bull association is not an experiment. It has been successful in a number of states for several years. Tennessee has (September, 1919) two co-operative bull associations—one in Wilson and one in Bedford county—and several others in process of formation. Each of these counties has a co-operative creamery and a co-operative cow-testing association. They enjoy the distinction of being the first in the South to have all three of these mutual organizations.

The Wilson county unit has eight blocks, and is one of the largest in the United States. All of the eight excellent sires owned by that organization are related to "Sybil's Gamboze," a $65,000 animal.

The co-operative bull association is a two-edged sword. It cuts high and reaches the well-to-do—those who have good bulls, but want better ones at the least cost. It also reaches out to the little man, or the small dairyman, who feels that he can not afford to own a real good bull owing to excessive cost. It affords him an opportunity to breed his cows to the very best dairy blood.

BEAT THE HESSIAN FLY; SOW WHEAT AFTER FROST

Wheat and vetch in Tennessee may be sown until as late as November 1, but their chance of success if sown later is uncertain. On account of the Hessian fly, it is not safe to sow wheat for grain before the first frost.

Winter oats, barley and clovers should have been sown in September. Oats and barley can be sown during the first few days of October with some degree of success, but clover never should be seeded later than September.

Land for wheat should be prepared with a good seedbed during September, and lime should be added. Don't forget lime. Add it to the land for most crops.

AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Railroad Motor Car Damages

One At Dangerous Cumberland County Crossing.

Crossville, Oct. 30.—An automobile driven by O. P. Rector, of this place, was struck by a motor car on the Tennessee Central Railway Wednesday. The left rear wheel of the automobile and the fender were smashed, while the motor escaped with a bent front axle. None of the occupants were hurt. Mr. Hyder was attempting to cross the track at the Olds Crossing, a very dangerous point, but saw the motor car coming and attempted to stop. However, his car skidded badly and to save his car from being struck sideways, he attempted to cross, but failed to completely do so. This crossing, known as Old's Crossing is very dangerous, and has been the scene of several accidents.

FINE JASPER RESIDENCE HAS NEW OWNER

Jasper, Nov. 1.—A R. Hall, the prominent lawyer, has purchased the beautiful residence and place of S. H. Alexander in North Jasper. It is one of the most beautiful and extensive places in Jasper and sold at a good figure. Mr. Hall already possesses a place which is the admiration of all who see it, but will probably dispose of it. It is understood that Mr. Alexander will continue to occupy the property until Jan. 1.

Dairy interests in Williamson county is growing with the increased price of cream.

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG MOTHER

Pikeville, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Wm. Wheeler died at this place last week at the home of her father, Dr. W. H. Harris, following the death of her infant daughter, born only two days previous. She had been married only a year and was one of the popular daughters of Pikeville, teaching successfully in the public schools.

WEED STALK REMOVED FROM CHEEK OF BOY

Dunlap, Nov. 3.—The stalk of a weed which penetrated the inside of the mouth of the four-year-old son of Cleve Ewton, of Dunlap, was removed recently, a former surgical operation failing to secure all it. The boy fell while running in the yard, and the stalk entered under the upper lip, penetrating nearly to the eye. The operation was performed by Dr. R. E. Standifer.

Guests of Mrs. Lewis.

Jasper, Nov. 1.—Mrs. E. W. Robinson and little son, Chalmer, of Chattanooga, have been visiting Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Anna Lewis, this week. Other guests of Mrs. Lewis have been Miss Aveline Ingle, of So. Pittsburg, and Miss Ida Callahan, of Chattanooga. Mrs. Lewis expects to be the guests of friends in So. Pittsburg next week.
